

From: CornerHouse
Subject: A starting point from the NCPTC letter
Date: April 26, 2011 9:24:16 AM

Happy 2011 From CornerHouse!

2011 Webinars

"My Body Belongs To Me"

NCPTC Speakers Bureau

2011 Training Brochure

ABOUT US

The National Child Protection Training Center (NCPTC) strives to significantly reduce and seek an end to child abuse, neglect and all other forms of child maltreatment in three generations through education, training, awareness, prevention, advocacy and the pursuit of justice. We have training centers at Winona State University and Northwest Arkansas Community College.

We Have Free Prevention Education Webinars - Sign Up Today!

Tuesday, January 11th, 2011
Bullying: Signs, Signals and Solutions for Parents and Caregivers with Molly Cirillo, community safety specialist for the Jacob Wetterling Resource Center

WEBINAR: TESTIFYING IN COURT

Presenter: Stephanie Smith, NCPTC Regional Director at NWACC

Date: Thursday, January 20th, 2011, 2:00pm Central Standard Time

Cost: $15 per registrant

Click here to Register Today!

Click here to register offline with a check or money order.

Presentation Explanation: It is critical for professionals to understand why they are testifying and in what capacity. This training focuses on how to prepare to testify in court regarding child abuse interviews, and what you can and cannot say. Some of the topics covered include: tips for providing testimony, understanding the difference between lay and expert witnesses, defending the forensic interview at trial, and common areas of attack by opposing counsel. Case law will also be discussed to demonstrate specific points in the presentation.

\ This presentation was recorded at "Forensic Interviewer at Trial," NCPTC at Winona State in September, 2010.*

\* Stephanie Smith will complete the question and answer portion following the webinar*

SEMINARY CURRICULUM: WHEN FAITH HURTS

For: Faith seminaries of any tradition

February 21, 2011 at NCPTC, Winona State University

Faith seminary representatives are welcome to apply and take part in a one day summit to learn the seminary curriculum already developed by NCPTC; When Faith Hurts: The Role of the Faith Community in Recognizing and Responding to Cases of Child Abuse. Afterwards, the attendees can attempt to implement the

Tuesday, February 8th, 2011
Internet and Cell Safety 101 with Naomi Hupton, community safety specialist and consultant for the Jacob Wetterling Resource Center

Want to get more involved with NCPTC or our prevention programs? Join our volunteer committee!

Even if you don't live in the Twin Cities, you can help us plan and promote projects to help keep kids safe.

The next committee meeting will be: Wednesday, January 12th - 5pm curriculum at their respective faith seminaries. Ten selected seminaries will be able to attend. Most expenses will be reimbursed to the attendees.

Click here to learn more!

Click Here for the application and instructions. Submit applications to NCPTC by Jan. 24, 2011.

There is no application fee or registration fee.

CHILD ABUSE AND THE LAW - AN ONLINE SEMINAR

For: Law school professors or attorneys as adjunct professors -only-

January 25, 2011 Registrants will have the opportunity to develop a Child Abuse and the Law course curriculum for a law school in their region; the seminar will explore the Child Abuse and the Law course that is offered at Hamline University School of Law. Up to Twenty law professors (or adjunct law professors), with experience prosecuting civil or criminal child abuse cases, will congregate in an online meeting from ten different law institutions. Space is limited!

Register online or mail in a registration form.

Visit our website: <http://www.cornerhousemn.org>

For daily updates, check out our Facebook Pages:

NCPTC / JWRC / NAPSAC / CED